BARCELONA SUSTAINABLE TOURISM

Where is Barcelona and what is sustainable tourism?

Barcelona is the capital of Catalonia which is in the north east of Spain.

It is a fascinating city by the sea and lots of people travel from different parts of the world to visit Barcelona. Many people feel that Barcelona is one of the world's most beautiful cities.

One of the reasons for this is because of the wonderful architecture, seen in your colouring page, by the genius Anton Gaudí.

But like some other stories this beauty can also cause problems. In the case of Barcelona the amount of visitors (tourists) mean that the city becomes far too busy. It gets so busy that it is not nice for the people who live there and also it can be damaging to the environment there.

This is why sustainable tourism is so important, not only in Barcelona but everywhere. So we can take good care of the world.

Barcelona knows how important sustainable tourism is and now the city is the first to be awarded a very special certification: the Biosphere Certification.

When you travel never forget to take care of the places that you go to!!!

You can colour from the photo on the next page. Have fun!
